STUDENT INDUCTION PROGRAMME

A REPORT ON "DARE TO BE DIFFERENT": A LECTURE BY EMINENT SPEAKER

A one day seminar was organized in SLRTCE with the initiatives of the Department of Humanities & Applied Sciences on 28.08.2019 under Student Induction Programme. The Seminar entitled "Dare to be Different" had a well-knit motivational content along with interactive sessions involving the partaking of students.

Mr. Robert Clements was the resource person of the programme. Mr. Robert Clements is an eminent Motivational speaker and Newspaper columnist (Khaleej Times, Dubai & The Morning Star, and London). He is endowed with the most vital and prevalent skills apt to the recent time. The objective of the programme was to make first year students aware about the near-term challenges that they have to face in their life, at their workplace etc. They must be competent enough to compete in this fast changing global world keeping themselves intact with righteous conduct and ethics. Every student should be well versed with communication skills and imbued with prescribed professional, and universal human ethics.

The programme was inaugurated by the principal of the college, Dr. S Ram Reddy with the felicitation of the resource person, Mrs. Karuna Bhole, (First Year Incharge), all the teachers and students of the department took active part in the programme. Mr. Clements in his motivational speech emphasized three major points, DIFFERENT, CHARACTER & GOAL. All these words, no doubt, seem very common yet have different connotations. He articulated the word "DIFFERENT" by formulating different perspectives from each and every letter of the word. According to Mr. Clements, the first Letter "D" stands for Dreamer/Doer and he elaborated it to inspire the student to be a dreamer/ doer. He extended the idea and inspired the student to dream something noble and elite and also guided them to be consistent in their efforts to make their dream come true. Likewise, he articulated the letter I for Ignition, F for Funny, F for Free, E for Embraced not to be embarrassed ,R for Role Model not to be a rogue, E for encourage , N for natural not for nameless and T for truthfulness. He put forth two divergent views and ask students to analyse and choose the one which is the most appropriate and required to lead a successful, happy and contented life. He tried well to show the right path to the students that will lead them towards Ideal life. Likewise, he expressed his extraordinary craftsmanship to portray the idea of being centred/focused, harmonious, not to be addict be reached out, adapted, trusting, empathetic and reputed or self-esteemed through he word "CHARACTER" A series of wonderful morals through the words like "go for it", "Obey" "Advice" & "Love" he implied in word "GOAL". To reveal the practicalities of these values to the students, he beautifully introduced anecdotes (small stories based on his personal experiences). Indeed, it was a wonderful session for the students and they enjoyed and loved it a lot. At the end of the lecture, he interacted with the students and answered their questions. No doubt, after the end of the session he motivated them to say 'We will dare to be different'.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES AND APPLIED SCIENCES

A REPORT ON UNIVERSAL HUMAN VALUE

The Department of Humanities and Applied Sciences organized a session of UHV on 9.08.202. The resource person for the event was Dr. Poonam Oza, one of the faculties from Thakur College of Engineering, teaching Communication Skills for engineering students. The session was conducted through a group discussion activity.

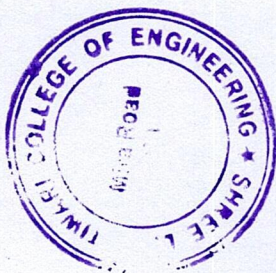

The event was conducted in 205, seminar hall .A branch-wise schedule was shared with the students of all branches. Batch wise groups were formed. Students were made to sit in a semicircle. Afterwards impromptu topics related to human values were announced. Five minutes were given to the group to think about the important points related to the topics. Then the actual session was started where students expressed their individual views related to the topics given to them. The session helped students to think on the topics and later shared their point of view. With this they got a chance to communicate fluently without any hesitation. Each and every student was given the chance to participate in the discussion. More than 170 students were present in the session

It was a very interesting session for our newcomers and they actively participated in the session by discussing at length their personal views on the topics of Group Discussion which were exclusively related to basic Human values.
