Narrative Report of webinar

Title of the webinar: Modern Workspace Skills for Fresher's & How to be Job Ready

Date/Duration: 22nd April 2021 (2 hrs)

Mode of conduct: Google Meet

Meet link: https://meet.google.com/swj-vjxt-ftm

Number of participants:80

Speaker(s) and Designation: Mr. Akhil Chandna, CEO of Arcforyou & Alumni of 2018 EXTC batch

Objective of the Webinar:

The webinar's core idea was to give students insight into the challenges that await them post-college life & how to deal with them.

Outcome of the Webinar:

The webinar started with Aboli ma'am warmly introducing the entire Arcforyou team to the students.

Mr. Akhil Chandna, CEO of Arcforyou & Alumni of 2018 EXTC batch introduced himself to the students and gave them a brief idea about his journey over the past 3 years.
As his core idea was to express to the students the challenges they are going to face after their graduation, he took a storytelling approach to make the students feel at home and then virtually live the challenges through his story.

Followed by this, the Arcforyou team had arranged for an expert trainer session to showcase a demonstration of Modern workspace skills of Collaboration, Communication, Creative thinking & Critical thinking through a vibrant interactive session of 20 minutes.
The session helped the students think proactively, by navigating around basic methods and adopting an out-of-the-box approach.

Finally, post the demonstration session, Mr. Akhil Chandna took his time to bind his & his batchmates' experiences to give the students a mental framework on Overcoming Adversity and Thinking Big.

Narrative Report of Webinar

Title of the Session: Project management

Date/Duration:15th May 2021(2 hrs)

Mode of Delivery: Google meet

Number of participants: 140

Speaker(s) and Designation:

Mr. Yatin Kandalgaonkar, Managing Consultant, Capgemini Invent

Objectives:

The seminar presentation is an important aspect of engineering students to gain more knowledge and strong skills for their brighter career. With the pandemic situation around learning should not get hampered, keeping this in mind department had planned the webinar for the students. Engineering is synonymous with practical learning gained by building and selling unique ideas, and how do we do that? It's by building projects and working in teams. The bedrock of which requires top-level project management skills.

Target Groups: SE, TE, BE

Knowledge acquired by the seminar:

The Webinar presented a small snippet into the world of project management. The huge subject was very comfortably broken down into a small number of easy to comprehend sections. The presentation was divided into five sections with a lot of animated YouTube videos to help us understand the subject matter better.

The initial section was about how to go about the planning of the project using Gantt Charts. The idea creation, looking for teams, talent and funding, creating the business case, deadlines and targets. That is what is called a project charter. The second section dealt with precise planning. This stage involves the careful distribution of roles to the team members and setting up a workflow, while also analysing and mitigating risks through various methods.

Now comes the third and the most important stage of execution. In this stage, the project is in the baby stage where the developers, business heads and program managers come together and work on creating a service or a product that would be presented in the market. During this time, the main point which Sir highlighted was the team meetings and how frequently it should be done so that no confusion and disturbances creep in.

After all the rigorous planning and work, we arrive at the fourth stage where monitoring and control of the project are done. It is where we take a look again at the finances, flow and direction of the project. The final stage is the Completion phase where a well-documented report is created with every small detail about the project written on it. After which the entire project is delivered and success is rightfully celebrated.

The students thoroughly enjoyed the flow of the session, the highlight of it was the doubt solving session.

DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES & APPLIED SCIENCES

STUDENT INDUCTION PROGRAMME

A REPORT ON YOGA ACTIVITIES

The Department of Humanities and Applied sciences conducted a yoga session for all first year students under the Students Induction Programme. The session was conducted on 06.03.2021 in virtual mode . The main objective of the session was to make students aware about the importance of keeping good health specially during the pandemic time as the students were completely confined within the four walls and having no time for the physical workout. . Mrs. Samita Bhandari took the online session.

Mrs Samita Bhandhari is an Assistant Professor from the Department of Electronics Engineering. She is a certified Yoga instructor thus clearly emphasized the importance of various yogic poses and meditative techniques to keep oneself healthy and active.

She started with a warm up session to align body further for some Yoga Asanas. She did physical exercises and also motivated and instructed students to practice those exercises. She also explained the importance of a healthy body and a mind to live a meaningful and successful life. She took a meditation session for five minutes which was later followed by the chanting of "OM"

First year engineering students practiced yoga and enjoyed the session. This was a new experience for them. The session was really a wonderful and informative one . Everyone liked the session
